

Grow your Own... Seed Potatoes!

See below for an extensive list of the new stock of seed potatoes we have available at Trevena Cross Nurseries:

First Earlies

Arran Pilot - RECOMMENDED - a popular one for garden growing, Arran Pilot produces high yields of excellent tasting, white skinned, disease resistant tubers with wonderful white flesh – one of the best boilers available! Grown by Graham in his tunnel for the very first earlies

Casablanca - New white skinned, first early. Edible sized crops can be achieved in 62 days! Great for boiling, baking, chips and mashing

Duke of York - An oval, cream coloured, waxy potato, ideal for baking like its red relative, or for roasting

Dunluce - Good early yields of oval, white skinned potatoes with shallow eyes. Great, versatile variety suited to chipping, boiling or steaming – doesn't disintegrate during cooking

Epicure - Producing high yields of floury tubers, this is one of the best tasting first earlies, great for boiling, in salads and for mashing

Foremost - A firm, white fleshed tasty potato, with good common scab resistance and a floury texture making it a great for boiling or baking, or in salads

Home Guard - AN OLD FAVOURITE - a very early variety that produces good yields. It has good resistance to common scab, and is great for boiling, baking, roasting, and making chips with. Very popular with Trevena Cross customers it is always one of the first to sell out

International Kidney - RECOMMENDED - A superb second early or maincrop potato, a selection of which is grown on Jersey and marketed as the well-known and extremely popular 'Jersey Royal'

Lady Christl - A great early variety that produces good yields, and has good resistance to common scab. Great for salads, boiling and chips

Maris Bard - A very early, heavy cropping variety with good drought and common scab resistance. White tubers with a traditional 'potato taste'. Good for salads as a boiling potato. Holds its shape well

Pentland Javelin - A soft waxy texture makes this white skinned and white fleshed variety a great one for salads

Premiere

Great all-round, disease resistant potato - a high yielding variety suited to organic growing. Ideal for salad, boiling, baking, roasting and chips!

Red Duke of York - One of few red skinned first earlies, it has a fine flavour and is great for baking, and as chips once a mature potato

Rocket - Large crops of uniformed round tubers, white fleshed and white skinned, ideal for salad and boiling

Sharpes Express - Long and oval, lemon coloured flesh with a high dry matter suitable for boiling, roasting and chips

Swift - Yielding a very early crop (within 60 days), this variety has a creamy, waxy flesh and a delicate, sweetish taste

Ulster Sceptre – Best eaten early and fresh, it produces high yields of waxy tubers, oval in shape with white skins and flesh. Great resistance to foliage blight, common and powdery scab

Winston – A versatile, tasty variety with creamy flesh, which makes a great masher and baker once the skins have set

Second Earlies

British Queen – Oval floury tubers with white skin, and uses in baking, boiling or roasting

Charlotte – RECOMMENDED – now the most popular salad potato with its fantastic taste, and high yields of waxy tubers – a winner for garden centre owner Graham

Estima – Widely seen commercially in supermarkets these large oval tubers have light yellow skin and multiple uses – for baking, boiling and mashing

Kestrel – BLIGHT TOLERANT – a very versatile, great looking and tasting potato with excellent pest and disease resistance, suitable for baking, boiling, mashing and roasting!

Marfona – Short, oval shaped potato with smooth texture. Versatile, they're great as mash, wedges and boiled. With a golden brown skins and smooth buttery taste, they can be eaten as is, with no additions required.

Maris Peer – An excellent punnet variety with cream skin and flesh, which produces a unique flower! Super for potato salads

Nicola – Great tasting waxy new potato, heavy yielding and stores well. Ideal new potato for boiling with salads

Saxon – A modern, high yielding variety, with white skin and flesh, and multiple uses in the kitchen

Wilja – High yielding, large yellow tubers, with great disease resistance, great for all-round use.

Maincrop

Amour – An award winning show bench potato – with uniformity in colour and size, great disease resistance and of course a great taste!

Cara – RECOMMENDED – BLIGHT TOLERANT – with whole skins and pink eyes, this is still one of the most popular varieties, ideal for baking, boiling, roasting or making chips. It has been a popular variety in Graham's own garden for many years

Golden Wonder – The floury flesh of a Golden Wonder makes it one of the best varieties for baking, frying and roasting, with a rich flavour that improves the longer it's stored. A heavy cropper with good slug resistance

Harlequin – A delicious variety, descent of 'Charlotte' and 'Pink Fir Apple'. A salad variety with creamy flesh and delicate texture

Kerr's Pink – Dry, floury texture, short and oval, and best when simply boiled in their pink skins. Good blight resistance and long term storage ability

King Edward – Very well-known and with good reason – an excellent tasting variety with multiple culinary uses, making it an excellent all-rounder

Maris Piper – Oval tubers with white flesh, and the reliable choice of chip shops across the country for the ideal chip! Actually great all round, for boiling, baking, mashing and roasting too

Kondor – World record holding heaviest potato!

Manitou – Medium to late, red skinned variety with a light yellow flesh colour. Excellent eating quality, suitable for making home fries.

Maxine – A red skinned, round tuber, and past Royal Horticultural Society (RHS) winner of garden merit. Great flavour, boiled, baked, roasted or as chips

Orla – BLIGHT TOLERANT – With cream skin and a pale yellow flesh, this is a popular one for organic growing, with a lovely taste and great blight resistance

Pentland Dell – Large oval shaped tubers with white skins and creamy coloured, floury flesh. Good resistance to disease and slugs. Great for chipping, roasting or baking

Pink Fir Apple – Long, knobbly tubers, a heritage variety and a winner of the RHS garden merit, great for boiling , baking, roasting or as chips

Sarpo Mira – RECOMMENDED – BLIGHT RESISTANT – the most blight resistant potato variety and therefore a real winner for garden centre owner Graham. Producing large yields, of tasty, dry floury tubers - great for multiple uses in the kitchen

Setanta – Another very blight resistant variety with red skin and yellow flesh. Ideal for organic growing, and with a great taste

Valor – Shows great levels of blight resistance and will produce large crops of bold white tubers with cream flesh. Good flavour

For up to the minute availability call us on 01736 763880.